Ryan founded Phoenix House in 2016 with a vision to create a supportive and connected community for individuals on the path to long-term sobriety. What he is most proud of is the unique culture at Phoenix House—where commitment to community and compassionate support are evident in every home. Motivated by witnessing families reconnect and rebuild after achieving lasting recovery, Ryan brings passion and dedication to the mission every day.

Eddie, Phoenix House's lead house manager, excels at guiding residents through recovery with patience and understanding. A drug court graduate, he actively supports others facing similar challenges. Outside work, Eddie enjoys sports, movies, family celebrations, and co-leads a reentry support group called One of Us, fostering community and positive change.

Why refer to Phoenix House

NARR-Aligned Residences
Our sober living homes meet the highest national standards for recovery residences, ensuring quality, safety, and accountability. NARR is expanding to Idaho, and Phoenix House is actively pursuing certification for all homes.

Evidence-Based Social Model of Recovery
We foster a supportive community environment that promotes peer mentoring, responsibility, and sustained sobriety.

Family-Friendly Atmosphere
We believe families recover together and we allow children to live with their parents rent free while in recovery. (Some restrictions apply).

Peer Leadership & Growth Opportunities
Each home has an established peer leadership team, with senior residents encouraged to apply for election. Leadership training is provided monthly.

Rapid Admissions & Flexible Length of Stay
We prioritize timely placement with same-day or next-day admissions when beds are available, and flexible durations tailored to individual recovery goals.

Convenient Locations Across Boise
With 11 homes near public transportation and community resources, residents have easy access to work, meetings, and appointments.

“Very well organized. Amazing community of responsible and accountable roommates. Management is amazing and very understanding and I'd have to say this is the best sober living I've ever lived in.” Devon Cates

“What sets Phoenix House apart is the sense of community. The residents and staff form a tight-knit group, encouraging each other every step of the way. I’ve gained not just stability but also lifelong connections. If you’re looking for a place to transition with dignity and support, Phoenix House is the place to be.” Jacob Musser

“I love the place. Truly a safe place to live if you are in recovery. The house is nice, if something goes wrong, it's fixed ASAP. I would recommend anyone who is serious about their sobriety to live in a Phoenix house.” Cadom Skow

“I currently live here and I love how well this house works together. It's like my extended family. We all support each other and help each other when we can. This house has been a blessing to me and has helped me to become a better member of my community.” Ambur Drury
